There will be nine high school graduates this year, unless some of them fail in the final examination. The class will be one that will be a credit to the school. The boys will be in the minority, there being three boys and six girls. The class will be composed of Arthur Riney, Margaret Joy, Lenore Carson, Raymond Ayer, Edna Pagan, Mabel Boyd, DeEtte Reighard, James Madison and Mabel Coudline.

Saturday, March 3rd, was violet day at the home of Miss Emily Madison, and the A. B. girls enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. Miss Helen Ripple was a guest. The violet color scheme was daintily carried out in the delicious refreshments and beautiful fresh violets graced the table. With much regret that time passed so quickly, the girls bled their hostess goodbye, and entering their "automobiles," were soon in their homes again. March 4th at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Finley will be busy day.

In the account of Larned's grand masked ball the Chronicle says: "The music was furnished by an orchestra of seven pieces from Dodge City and was under the personal direction of that noted western Kansan, the Hon. Chalk Beeson, the man who once 'fiddled' himself into the Kansas legislature, and was all everything the most critical dancer could have desired."

A new process of embalming has been discovered by which it is claimed that real bodies may be used as statues. The process includes an electroplating with such metal as is desired. When this process comes into use, it is argued that the bodies of great men will be embalmed and electroplated and kept on exhibition in some public place. In Dodge City there will be room for a statue on the opera house, one on each the court house, city hall, library and masonic hall. Candidates for these places may announce free in the Globe Republican.

On the coming Sunday evening Minocaka Yamanoto will deliver a lecture at the Presbyterian church at the hour for evening service, on Japan, its religion, manners, customs etc. This lecture is highly commended by those who have heard it, and is given on weekdays at a regular fee. We think his crayon work is second to no chalk talker in this country." With the Meistersingers Male Quartet, Thursday evening March 15, at the Presbyterian church.

The coming summer will be noted in Dodge City history as a building period. The Santa Fe is starting on a $15,000 coal chute and sand house, and is figuring on an office building, new round house and other improvements. There will be a number of brick buildings, some fine ones in the business part of town. If the amount of building is done that is contemplated at present there will be ten store rooms and a great many more office rooms added to the business part of Dodge City.

THEY WOULDN'T STAND IT.

Evangelist Oliver had an Exciting Time in Iowa.

Evangelist Oliver, who for some time made a specialty of abusing Dodge City, seems to have found the people of Waverly, Iowa not so peace loving and patient as the Dodge people. The Anthony Republican says:

"French E. Oliver, the evangelist who held services in Anthony last year, was attacked by a mob of two hundred people at Waverly, Iowa, recently for a bitter and unjustifiable attack on the city's morals and municipal authorities; other ministers hustled Oliver out of sight and wired the governor for protection. The sheriff held the crowd back until he was gotten away, according to the Lone Tree, Iowa, Register. All of which would probably have been the record here but for Mayor Brown's objection to an incensed people measuring out to Mr. Oliver his just deserts.
